"UP has the potential of becoming the growth engine of the country with favourable location and a vast manpower with more than 60% rural, but unfortunately there was an unfortunate fire and some party which destroyed investment corridor in the state," the PM said.

He added that the defence corridor would open up new options in the case of taking the Agni, Akash, Bharat and Chakra missiles.

Modi earlier inaugurated the investment corridor in the presence of governor Nagesh Kumar, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath and a host of Union and state ministers, along with top industrialists and foreign dignitaries.

The corridor's top corporate leaders gathered at the Indira Gandhi Pratishthan for the inaugural session of the corridor.
