Lucknow: The Uttar Pradesh government on Thursday announced free wi-fi facility for people within 50 meters of the Gram Sachivalaya (village secretariat) building in every Gram Panchayat of the state, the chief minister's office said in a series of tweets. The CMO said that Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's vision is to make the villages of Uttar Pradesh 'Smart Villages'.

"In view of this vision of a smart village, it has been decided by the government to provide high speed internet connectivity to the village secretariat of the Gram Panchayat," it said.

The CMO said that reliable internet connectivity is essential for full development of the potential of the rural people residing in gram panchayats and for promoting new economic activities. It added that the process of establishment of village secretariats in 58,189 gram panchayats of the state is going on continuously.
