NEW DELHI: Strong economic growth in India has positive implications for the global economy and the country stands out for its vaccine policy, which is playing a key role in helping the world deal with the Covid-19 crisis, International Monetary Fund (IMF) chief economist Gita Gopinath said on Monday.

"India makes up about 7% of world GDP based on purchasing power parity terms. So, when you are that large, what happens in India has implications for many other countries in the world, especially countries in the region," Gopinath said.
