Lucknow: Energy minister AK Sharma on Friday said that the state's power sector has enormous potential and it has attracted investments worth Rs 7 lakh crore during the UP Investors Summit.

Addressing a session on 'Sustainable Development Through Renewable Energy' at the summit, Sharma said that significant progress had been made in the energy sector under the Yogi Adityanath government.

Sharma, who was the chief guest of the session, said: "I call upon investors to be partners in the state's development. The entire journey of human development is linked to energy."

Discussing potential energy sources and renewable energy, the minister said that energy usage went up with requirements.

"Investments that come through the UP Global Investors Summit and the success of the industries to be established in the state also depends on the availability of energy," he said.

Sharma said there were huge challenges related to energy before the entire world.

The minister also apprised the investors of Yogi government's plans to reduce carbon emissions.
