Lucknow: Union housing and urban development minister Hardeep Singh Puri said UP has been leading in terms of implementation of central schemes since Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath came to power in 2017.

Puri was speaking at the session on 'Re-imagining Cities as Growth Centers for New Uttar Pradesh' on Sunday. The minister praised Yogi saying: "In 2015, only 17,000 homes were made under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana in 17 months but since the Yogi government came to power around 17 lakhs houses were built in just 17 months." He said development in the country will make India the world's largest economy by 2040.

"There is no doubt that

UP will contribute immensely to this growth. UP will be the growth engine of India's economy as the state is led by CM Yogi. I am sure that the success and investments attracted through GIS will write new chapters in UP's success," he added.

UP urban development minister AK Sharma said: "There was a time when garbage dumping zones were landmarks of a locality or houses, but now the picture has completely changed."
