

Singapore delegation lauds Smart City, shares more ideas

Himanshu Singh | TNN

Lucknow: A delegation of 15 entrepreneurs from Singapore, who had come for Global Investor Summit, visited the Lucknow's Smart City office situated in Lalbagh on Sunday. They were accompanied by personnel of the UP government and stayed for around 3 hours during which they not only appreciated the facility but also offered tips for evolving the existing system.

They were amazed at the technological advancements being used in implementation of EV vehicle run/charging, and successful installation of Intelligent Traffic Management systems (ITMS) to regulate traffic, and usage of sensor-based dustbins. They were taken to a city tour via the smart window, showcasing musical fountains, laser show at JN Mishra park.

The delegates were mesmerised about the efforts being made to preserve the

Members of Singapore delegation with Smart City project team

Amir-ud-Daula public library, by making it digitised and giving a facelift to the building comprising the library.

“They were shown the revamped heritage corridor project on which the delegation offered their suggestions of developing a chain of hotels like they have done in their country,” said Smart City GM, SC Singh.

Singh said that they also exchanged views about their system on solid waste management in Singapore.

Impressed with city's growth

Senior director, Emerging Markets and Singapore-India Partnership Office at Ministry of Trade and Industry, Singapore, Francis Chong, who was also the part of the delegation, told TOI that he was highly impressed by the development of Lucknow which was being done keeping in mind both the heritage and modern technology.