

Banarasi paan & Langda aam from Kashi in GI club

Binay Singh | TNN

Sanjay Gupta

Varanasi: The famous Banarasi paan and Banarasi Langda mango are the two latest products from the city to have got the Geographical Indication (GI) tag. This apart, the 'Adamchini' rice of neighbouring Chandauli district has also joined the GI club recently.

As many as 33 products were granted GI certification on a single day on March 31 by the GI Registry, Chennai. Among them, 10 products belong to UP, including three from Varanasi. As of now, UP has 45 GI goods, out of which 20 belong to the Varanasi region of eastern UP. So far, 441 Indian products and 34 foreign goods have been granted GI tag by the GI Registry.

PRIDE OF VARANASI

► 20L people, P 5