

In Mann ki Baat, Modi praises millet startups in Lko, Prayagraj

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Lucknow: BJP president JP Nadda, CM Yogi Adityanath and a host of senior BJP leaders, including UP BJP chief Bhupendra Chaudhary, listened to the 108th edition of PM Narendra Modi's 'Mann Ki Baat' programme in Lucknow on Sunday.

The PM discussed the achievements of 2023 and highlighted the startups in Uttar Pradesh. Speaking about the International Year of Millets, Modi praised several start-ups in Lucknow and Prayagraj.

He also described his real-time Hindi and Tamil address, delivered with the help of Artificial Intelligence (AI) technology during the recent Kashi Tamil Sangamam, as "revolutionary". He expressed hope that the innovations at Kashi Tamil Sangamam would greatly aid in establishing multilingual communication in schools, hospitals, and courts in the future.

He further appealed to the youth to make social media Ram-centric (Rammay) before the Pran Pratistha programme of Ram Lalla going to be held on January 22. He suggested that songs dedicated to Lord Ram should be shared on social media using the hashtag #ShriRamBhajan.

Later in the day, Nadda and Yogi participated in welfare activities.
