

Varanasi pilot location for deployment of green hydrogen fuel cell inland vessels on NW-I

. It was also informed that due to its low emission qualities, methanol is also actively considered one of the key green fuels discussions underscored the nation's heavy reliance on foreign fleets for cargo movement, resulting in significant foreign exchange expenditure.

Source: Reuters

Varanasi has been selected as the pilot location for deployment of green hydrogen fuel cell inland vessels on National Waterways-I, aligning with the government's Harit Nauka guidelines, an official statement said on Friday.