

'Work in progress to make U.P. trn-dollar economy'

LUCKNOW: Finance minister Suresh Khanna on Tuesday said the Yogi Adityanath government had provided an atmosphere of safety and security in the state, and that work was in progress in all sectors to make Uttar Pradesh a trillion-dollar economy.

Khanna was speaking at a programme organised for the release of three books that included a book titled "Trillion Dollar Economy" Yogi Government... Uttar Pradesh on the Move and authored by Sheelwant Singh.

Advisor to chief minister Avaneesh Awasthi and the director of the economic policy and research department, the Reserve Bank of India were present on the occasion.

Khanna said the book provided details about how the state government was working on primary, secondary and tertiary sectors and about Uttar Pradesh's GSDP reaching Rs 25 lakh crore.

He said the state government was giving minimum support price (MSP) while buying the produce of farmers. He said the pending projects of irrigation were being completed and once the condition of farmers was strengthened, Uttar Pradesh would surely achieve the objective of becoming a trillion-dollar economy.
