

Home / Focus / YEIDA Industrial Revolution: Past, Present & Future of Noida's Mega Industrial Hub

YEIDA Industrial Revolution: Past, Present & Future of Noida's Mega Industrial Hub

Explore the transformative impact of the Yamuna Expressway Industrial Development Authority (YEIDA) as it drives India's industrial growth and sustainable urbanisation. This documentary delves into YEIDA's journey from its early days to its rise as one of India's largest and most advanced industrial hubs, with strategic plans and major projects underway. Discover YEIDA's approved Master Plan 2041, which outlines a blueprint for sustainable development, enhanced infrastructure, and green initiatives.

One of YEIDA's standout projects is the Noida International Airport, set to launch by 2024, which will boost regional connectivity and attract global businesses. The documentary also spotlights significant investments like the ₹17,000 crore semiconductor plant by Tarq Semiconductors, expected to be a game-changer for India's tech industry.

Gain insights from key stakeholders on YEIDA's forward-looking vision, addressing opportunities for sustainable industrialisation, enhanced infrastructure, and the challenges the authority faces in balancing rapid development with environmental goals. Discover how YEIDA is positioning itself as a model of modern industrial planning in India.