

Yogi Govt's Initiatives Propel Uttar Pradesh's Food Processing Industry Toward Self-Reliance

FPJ Web Desk | Updated: Wednesday, January 01, 2025, 04:45 PM IST

UP CM Yogi Adityanath | File Photo

Lucknow, January 1: Under the decisive leadership and visionary guidance of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, Uttar Pradesh is making rapid strides toward self-reliance. The state government has implemented targeted measures to boost the food processing industry, empowering women, entrepreneurs, and youth in rural and urban areas. Significant progress has been achieved under the PM FME Scheme.

In alignment with the Government of India's directives, Uttar Pradesh has successfully established 14 Incubation Centers/Common Facility Centers with a project cost of Rs 47 crore. These centers are equipped with state-of-the-art machinery to enhance productivity and innovation.

Aimed at fostering self-reliance among rural women, these centers are projected to directly and indirectly benefit approximately 15,000 women by providing employment opportunities.

Under the leadership of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, Uttar Pradesh is emerging as a hub for food processing industries. According to the Department of Horticulture and Food Processing, the