

Shedding BIMARU tag, UP now growth engine of India: Yogi

Arindam Ghosh | TNN

Jhansi: Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Tuesday said that Uttar Pradesh has transformed from a BIMARU state to the growth engine of the country and added that the govt is making youth self-sufficient by fostering entrepreneurship.

Inaugurating a joint credit camp for Jhansi and Chitrakoot divisions under the Mukhyamantri Yuva Udyam Vikas Abhiyan in Jhansi, the CM said: "From being termed as a BIMARU state, UP has now become the growth engine of the country. As part of this development, Bundelkhand has also forged a new identity, and the world will acknowledge its strength soon."

CM Yogi at the inauguration of the Jhansi Space Museum

During the event, the CM distributed loans among 1,070 beneficiaries and visited an exhibition showcasing the scheme's impact.

Elaborating the govt's efforts to usher in development in Bundelkhand, Yogi said that the govt aimed at making youth self-sufficient by fostering entrepreneurship.

► Dacoits, mafia, P 5