"Youths are a reservoir of immense energy. Villages in UP have witnessed mass migration in the past. But now our state is known for generating employment. We will make sure that every youth in the state has a secure job," Yogi assured the large number of youths who gathered to listen to him.

Pointing out successful schemes such as One District One Product, Yogi said that traditional industries and crafts are providing immense opportunities to rural households and have given the state a global identity. Presently, 96 lakh MSME units are active in the state, and 40 lakh migrant workers who returned to their villages during the pandemic have been absorbed into the manufacturing industry, he said. An insurance cover of Rs 5 lakh is being provided for entrepreneurs operating the MSMEs. The Prime Minister's Vocal for Local and Atmanirbhar Bharat initiatives have bolstered local products, echoed Yogi. Traditional workers such as carpenters, masons, blacksmiths, goldsmiths, potters, cobblers, and barbers have been provided toolkits and affordable loans along with specialised training to scale up their operations. "We launched the CM Yuva Udyami scheme in Jan under which interest-free loans are being offered to youths between 21 and 40. So far, 70,000 youths have already derived the benefits under the scheme. UP witnessed investments exceeding Rs 15 lakh crore, which created jobs for 60 lakh youths," the CM said.

Moreover, 8.50 lakh youths have been provided jobs with complete transparency, with the majority of jobs created in the police, education, health, and agriculture departments, he added. Taking a leap, support from Tata Technologies is being taken to train youth in the latest nish Awasthi, advisor to CM, said, "It is good that many other states are also taking up the $1 trillion economy goal. The UP were ahead of them competition in the area will help in fortifying efforts. UP has already built a network of sectoral policies that have efforts for growth and development. In addition to this, the state monitors progress on the count in a scientific way."

Vrinda Shukla, SP 1090, said, "What lies between barriers and breakthroughs is courage, consistency and discipline. But the core of success rests on pillars of focus an individual efforts to remain on the path towards the goal. The only message for working women is not to give up against the odds and continue to safeguard one's financial independence."

over 20,000 anganwadi workers was also conducted, reflecting the department's efforts," she said.

Lucknow: Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath will hand over appointment letters to 2,425 newly selected chief assistants and 13 pharmacists in the child development and nutrition department under Mission Rozgar on Wednesday.

A govt spokesman said the event will mark the largest recruitment in the department in the past two decades.

Director of the department Sarnit Kaur Broca said: "Candidates were selected by the Uttar Pradesh Subordinate Services Selection Commission through a transparent process. The CM will personally distribute appointment letters to the candidates, which will not only strengthen the anganwadi system but also energise women and child development services."

She added that the ministers Baby Rani Maurya and Pratibha Shukla will also be present at the event. Broca said over the past eight years, the department has recorded remarkable achievements. "Promotions were completed through the Public Service Commission for six district programme officer positions and over 200 child development project officer positions. Recruitment of 19,424 anganwadi workers was completed across 75 districts while over 3,000 assistants were promoted to worker positions," she said. She also said the honorarium for 22,290 mini anganwadi workers converted to main workers was increased from Rs 5,500 to Rs 8,000. "Two years ago, 320 honorarium workers were absorbed into regular service, marking a significant achievement," she said. Broca also noted that the department set an example in promotions and compassionate appointments.
