

UP has converted potential into tangible growth, says CM Yogi

Shailvee.Sharda
@timesofindia.com

Lucknow: Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Friday said the state turned its “limitless potential into tangible outcomes”, transforming itself into an investor-friendly, industrially vibrant hub.

Speaking at the inauguration of Ashok Leyland’s electric vehicle (EV) manufacturing plant in Sarojini Nagar, Lucknow, he highlighted the state govt’s decisive governance, fast-track approvals, and policy certainty, which enabled the world-class facility to be completed in a record 18 months. Union Defence minister and Lucknow MP Rajnath Singh was also present.

Recalling UP’s situation prior to 2017, the CM said, “Lawlessness in the state was widely known, and investors were steadily withdrawing.”

Defence minister Rajnath Singh and CM Yogi Adityanath at the inauguration of EV Plant in Lucknow on Friday

► Policy paralysis, P3