New Delhi, 26 April

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will undertake a two-day visit to Uttar Pradesh on April 28-29, during which he is set to participate in a major Mahila Sammelan in Varanasi, unveil development projects worth around Rs 6,350 crore, flag off new train services, and inaugurate the Ganga Expressway in Hardoi.

According to official details, Modi will attend the Mahila Sammelan in Varanasi at around 5 pm on April 28, where a large number of women from across the region are expected to participate. At the event, he will inaugurate and lay the foundation stone of projects spanning rail, road, water supply, healthcare, tourism and urban infrastructure, and address the gathering. Officials said the initiatives reflect the government's emphasis on inclusive development and women-led growth.

The Prime Minister will dedicate more than 48 completed projects worth over Rs 1,050 crore to the nation, including the widening of the Varanasi-Azamgarh road, new rail overbridges at Kazzakpura and Kadipur, and a 55 MLD sewage treatment plant in Bhagwanpur. Community-focused initiatives such as rural drinking water schemes under the Jal Jeevan Mission, redevelopment of Chandrawati Ghat, tourism works at Sarangnath Temple near Sarnath, and the renovation of Sant Ravidas Park will also be inaugurated.

In addition, he will lay the foundation stone for over 112 projects valued at around Rs 5,300 crore. These include sewerage and water supply schemes under AMRUT 2.0, a 500-bed super-specialty hospital, redevelopment of healthcare facilities, tourism upgrades at key ghats such as Assi and Dashashwamedh, and administrative infrastructure.
