

Workers hail improved housing, wages

Lucknow: On the occasion of International Worker's Day, the state govt on Friday organised a 'Shramveer Gaurav Samaroh 2026' in which several workers were honored.

The workers shared how govt welfare schemes have transformed their lives through better housing, timely wages and basic amenities.

A worker from Sitapur, Munnalal, shared that his family's living conditions had improved significantly in recent years. Recalling earlier hardships, he said his household once depended on kerosene lamps, but now has electricity, permanent housing and LPG access under govt welfare schemes. "Earlier, life was extremely difficult. Today, we have electricity, a home and gas connection. These changes have brought dignity to our lives," he said.

Akash, a construction worker from Bareilly currently employed in Lucknow, said timely wage payments have improved his family's financial stability. "Regular payments have helped us manage our household better and reduced uncertainty," he said. TNN
