

We turned NCR's crime-infested region into India's 'Jewar': Yogi

'Airport Will Help Boost Investment, Jobs, Connectivity'

Pankaj.Shah1
@timesofindia.com

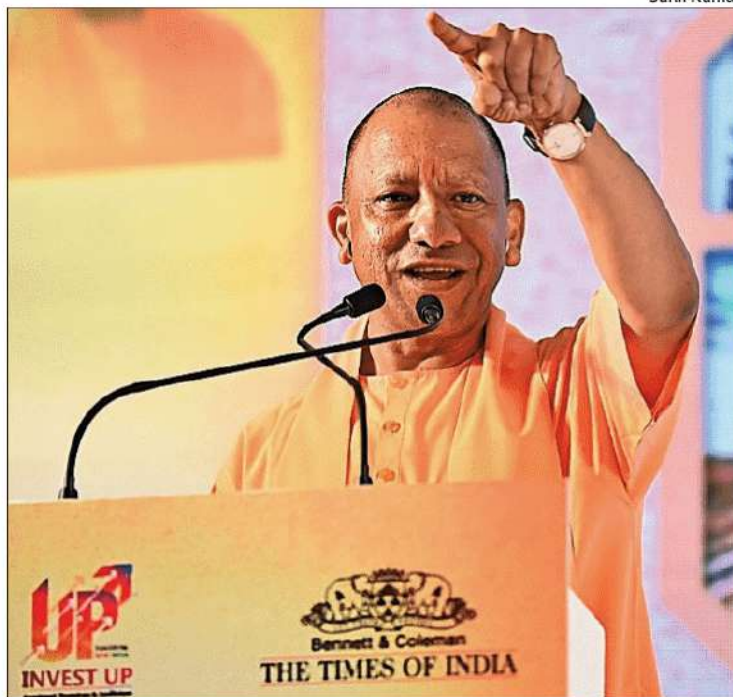

Lucknow: Chief minister Yogi Adityanath on Thursday asserted that the nine years of BJP rule in Uttar Pradesh transformed the once crime-prone region of the NCR into a symbol of development and the "jewar" (ornament) of India.

Speaking at the 'Defining

TOI CONCLAVE

Years of 'Transformation' conclave organised by TOI, Yogi recalled the 2011 Bhatta-Parasaul agitation, marked by clashes between farmers and police over land acquisition for the Yamuna Expressway.

"The region, once associa-

Sunil Kumar

CM Yogi Adityanath speaks at TOI Conclave in Lucknow on Thursday

ted with unrest and uncertainty, has now emerged as an investment hub. The Jewar region is now the 'jewar' (ornament) of the country," he said. Highlighting the Noida air-

“It's essential for people to know socio-economic changes brought about in UP since 2017 to “safeguard” from conditions that “ruined” the state

Yogi Adityanath | CM

port, he described it as country's largest airport project and said commercial flight operations were expected to begin from June 15. "The airport will play a key role in boosting investment, jobs and connectivity in west UP," he said.

The CM said it was essential for people to know the socio-economic changes brought in UP since 2017 to "safeguard" from the conditions that "ruined" the state.

► Per capita income, P 7