

Uttar Pradesh is building India's most investible infra economy: Invest UP CEO Vijay Kiran Anand

"Infrastructure monetisation is about recycling capital from mature assets into the next generation of expressways, industrial corridors, logistics infrastructure and urban development. That approach will be critical to accelerating UP's journey towards becoming a $1 trillion economy."

Arpit Gupta • ETGovernment

Published On Jul 5, 2025 at 07:09 AM IST

Vijay Kiran Anand

As Uttar Pradesh scales up investments in industrial corridors, logistics networks, airports and urban infrastructure, financing this transformation has become as critical as execution.

In this conversation with ETGovernment, Vijay Kiran Anand, Chief Executive Officer, Invest UP & UPSIDA, and Secretary, Infrastructure & Industrial Development Department, Government of Uttar Pradesh, outlines how India's most populous state is creating an investment ecosystem that combines policy certainty, world-class infrastructure and institutional execution.

He further discusses financing infrastructure through public and private capital, strengthening investor confidence, and positioning Uttar Pradesh as a national model for infrastructure monetisation.