The access-controlled expressway is likely to provide faster and safer travel between the two cities while reducing traffic pressure on the existing route. Two-wheelers and three-wheelers will not be allowed on the expressway.

The restriction is part of the access-controlled design of the six-lane corridor. The NHAI has set Rs 275 toll for one-way, Rs 415 for return within 24 hours.

Another major project

Lucknow-Kanpur Expressway

to be inaugurated is the four-lane construction of package four of NH 731 between Hardoi and Lucknow.

Built at a cost of Rs 541 crore, the 32-km highway will improve regional connectivity and facilitate smoother movement of passengers and freight.

The foundation stone will also be laid for a four-lane flyover at Engineering College Chauraha on NH 24.

The one-km flyover, estimated to cost Rs 109 crore, is aimed at easing congestion at one of Lucknow's busiest intersections.
