Varanasi (UP): Varanasi is leading in energy and environmental conservation initiatives in Uttar Pradesh (UP). The government's efforts to transform Varanasi into a solar city are gaining momentum and promising significant savings in both, electricity and finances, while prioritising environmental protection. According to a government spokesman, under the 'Har Ghar Solar Yojana', over 28,000 registrations for solar rooftop grid systems have been done in just 2.5 months, surpassing the targeted 25,000 connections. Chief Development Officer, Himanshu Nagpal, said the scheme initially aimed for 25,000 solar rooftop grid systems in the city, but has now been expanded to nearly 72,000 connectio
