NOW, UP HAS LONGEST NETWORK OF E-WAYS

Before 2017, UP had only two operational expressways. Since then, five new expressways were completed and opened. With Gorakhpur Link Expressway, UP now holds distinction of having longest network of expressways in the country. These corridors play a pivotal role in fast-tracking the state's economic growth and regional connectivity. The seven expressways operational in the state include the Lucknow-Agra Expressway, Purvanchal Expressway, Bundelkhand Expressway, Yamuna Expressway, Delhi-Meerut Expressway, Noida-Greater Noida Expressway, and Gorakhpur Link Expressway.
